Welcome to Southeast Texas!

What brings you our way?

An easy and affordable road trip with the family? An unexpected girlfriend getaway or couple's retreat? A quick stop off I-10? Maybe you're just itching to explore a new place. Whatever the reason, we think you'll be pleasantly surprised.

On the border between Louisiana and the Lone Star State, Southeast Texas is a little bit Cajun, a lot Texan, and 100% unique to the South. Full of contradictions and surprises, prepare yourself for a lot of firsts because we put Texas on the map.

From the economy to the culture, it's the best of both worlds in our little corner of the world. Southeast Texas is where the Texas oil boom began. It's here that Janis Joplin belted out her first tune. And it's here-where football is king-that Coach Jimmy Johnson suited up for the very first time. You can try Cajun cuisine, take a hike, go back in time at one of the historic homes, or pose with the colorful murals.

The five communities that make up the Golden Triangle - Beaumont, Groves, Nederland, Port Arthur, and Port Neches - each have their own energy, quirky charm, and a place in history books. Together, their storied legacy and landscapes create a region that's rich in resources, history, nature, culture, and community. So, get to exploring and join our "krewe."

And let us be the first to invite you to "laissez les bon temps rouler" or let the good times roll.

Thanks for visiting, y'all!

Breweries

BUCKSTIN BREWING CO.

1211 Boston Ave, Nederland | 409.519.8091

Beers on tap: There are currently nine beers on tap that will change as often as possible with a new release to come out about every week. Easy Breezy Blonde and Can Sandwich have been the most popular light, easy-drinking beers thus far.

Ambiance: A rustic family-friendly hunting lodge.

What sets them apart: Owned by a husband and wife duo, Justin started brewing in his mom's kitchen over 10 years ago before he was even 21. You can imagine he was the most popular person in town right from the get-go. Since, he's won numerous awards in national homebrewing competitions, which is when he started to take his dream more seriously.

Don't Miss: Their new hazy IPA - the Brewmaster's personal favorite. They also sell pizza and small bites which allows them to be even more creative in the kitchen. The chefs latest creation? A German-style pizza topped with beer cheese and sausage that sounds like a delicious delight.

NECHES BREWING CO.

1108 Port Neches Ave, Port Neches | 409.237.5700

Beers on tap: With 40 taps, 12 are house brews. Try a signature Siren Blonde or Hazy IPA.

Ambiance: Surf-shack chic.

What sets them apart: The first microbrewery in the area, Neches Brewing Co. was the pioneer in local small-batch brewing.

Don't Miss: They have live music, karaoke, and trivia almost every night of the week. Make sure to check the events calendar to catch your favorite act.

POUR BROTHERS

585 Wall St, Beaumont | 409.363.5006

Beers on tap: Pour Brothers has eight taps that continually rotate as they develop new recipes. Sips to try include the Gladys City Crude, named after the historic gusher, and CardinAle, a red ale honoring Lamar University.

Ambiance: A killer dog-friendly patio and beer garden downtown, games like cornhole ensure groups stick around sipping.

What sets them apart: A high-tech tap wall allows you to pour your own tastings with an electronic card that charges by the ounce.

Don't Miss: If you ask nicely and they aren't busy, they'll give you a tour of the brewery and teach you all about the beer-making process.

STRUGGLE STREET BREWING COMPANY

2140 Calder Ave, Beaumont | 409.299.9701

Beers on tap: With 20 taps and no flagship pours, their beers are constantly rotating from stouts to sours. Known for creative, fruit-forward blends like Caramel Apple StruggleTart, Blueberry Muffin StruggleStout, PB&J StruggleTart, and Pecan Pie StruggleStout they often make in as little as one barrel and once it's gone, it's gone.

Ambiance: This bustling bar is always busy with guests ordering flight after flight. If you can snag a seat don't give it up!

What sets them apart: Started on Kickstarter, the name Struggle Street is lovingly fitting and truly a community-driven endeavor.

Don't Miss: The Struggle Free Raspberry Lemonade Hard Selzer - it goes down a little too easily.

4 | THE BIG THICKET

30.45711° N, 94.38775° W

Southeast Texas is located on two of the four migratory flyways in the U.S., the Central and Mississippi. Thanks to its unique position near the Gulf of Mexico, there are 28 Great Texas Coastal Birding Trails within a 40-mile radius of the city. The American Birding Association called it one of the "most interesting avifaunal confluences in the country." For beginning birders, it's a fantastic place to practice identifying wading birds and ducks. For advanced birders, this eastern Texas coastal region presents a number of unique and intriguing ID challenges due to range overlaps not present elsewhere. And for photographers, Southeast Texas is as good as it gets.

Southeast Texas offers a desirable environment with protection from major predators with many designated wildlife conservation areas and preserves, making it a well-known fallout spot to see rare species. With four distinct habitats: woods, wetlands, marsh, and shore, it is a place of contrast where you can experience everything from piney forest to coastal plains, and home to a variety of endemic species from shorebirds to tree-dwellers.

MIGRATION

Peak spring migration occurs March through May while peak fall migration takes place from August through November. Close to 400 bird species are spotted in and around the area annually, so you're all but guaranteed to check more than a few off your life list. One thing's for sure...Southeast Texas is for the birds.

1 | CATTAIL MARSH SCENIC WETLANDS AND BOARDWALK

With over 900-acres of Scenic Wetlands, Cattail Marsh boasts over 283 species of fowl, 8 miles of levees, a boardwalk, and the Cattail Marsh Wetlands Education Center.

2 | SEA RIM STATE PARK

Where the sea meets the marsh, Sea Rim skirts the Texas state line, providing premiere birding year-round with access to salt marsh, sand dunes, and an open Gulf habitat.

3 | SABINE WOODS

This slightly elevated beach ridge with many winding trails, allows oak trees to grow along the coast, attracting migrants in droves.

4 | BIG THICKET NATIONAL PRESERVE

A patchwork of protected areas has created a convergence of ecosystems from long leaf pine forests to cypress rimmed bayous, resulting in a biological crossroads and some of the greatest diversity in North America.

5 | ANAHUAC NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE

A sprawling 34,000-acre wildlife refuge is home to hundreds of thousands of birds. The coastal marsh and prairie habitat is a year-round birding hot spot.

6 | HIGH ISLAND

A spectacular birding location in the spring when migrants come pouring across the Gulf. Sightings and numbers are highest during fallout when fast-moving cold fronts come through. Be sure to keep an eye on the weather to experience these sights!

7 | BOLIVAR FLATS

A combination of salt marsh, mud flats, and beach, the Bolivar Flats, produce the most consistent phenomenal birding with concentrations of species resting and nesting year-round.

8 | PLEASURE ISLAND

Share Pleasure Island with shorebirds, ducks, gulls, and terns. This man-made island is good for a day of fun while adventuring through the hills, bluffs, and vistas of Sabine Lake and Neches River.

MOUTH-WATERING Cuisine

A mix of Cajun, Creole, and Southern in Texas-sized portions, Southeast Texas cuisine is undoubtedly one of the area's star attractions. Eat your way around the world with a variety of ethnic delights, or keep it local with Gulf Coast seafood and Texas-raised beef. Get messy with a crawfish boil, try the signature BBQ crab, and sample regional delights like boudin and kolaches.

Eat Like a Local

CRAWFISH, SEAFOOD BOILS & CAJUN

What is Crawfish?

The start of spring means one thing in the South: crawfish season. A coveted treat, crawfish, are said to taste like bite-sized lobsters. February through June, crawfish can be found at area restaurants, grocery stores, seafood shacks, and backyard boils. You order them on platters by the pound with fixings like potatoes and corn in varying spice levels.

How to Eat Crawfish

Whether you have a snap, crack, and peel method or you suck the heads clean, there is no wrong way to enjoy crawfish. Simply twist the tail, savor the flavor, pinch, peel, tug, dip, eat, and repeat!

Boudain

A staple of Cajun cuisine, boudain is a seasoned pork sausage. It can be added to various dishes but is commonly rolled into balls and deep-fried with rice or served as a link.

Gumbo

In its simplest form, gumbo is a combination of seasoning, meat or shellfish, and the “holy trinity” of veggies served in a tasty stew over rice, but the real secret is the roux. A thickener made of flour and fat, the longer the roux cooks, the darker it becomes and the more flavor it retains. Part art, part science, it’s a labor of love to get it just right.

HISTORY OF JASON'S DELI

A locally grown legacy, Jason's Deli was founded in Beaumont in 1978 as an award-winning neighborhood deli that has since exploded in popularity. Franchises across the country operate 275 stores in 28 states yet are still family-owned and community-driven. Have lunch at the original location, which offers unique menu items like their signature muffulettas and po'boys.

BEAUMONT FARMER'S MARKET

*Beaumont Municipal Athletic Complex
Address: 6525 College St, Beaumont*

The Beaumont Farmer's Market is a place for the community to meet and to support their local farmers. The market is a producer-only market, which means all the produce a farmer sells has been grown from their own farm. All vendors are located within 150 miles of the area.
Hours: Sat. 8-11 a.m.

SLEEP PEACEFUL Lodging

Looking for the perfect place to stay on your next getaway? From big name hotels to quaint motels, we have the perfect place for you to rest your head, so you wake up refreshed and ready to explore. There are options that are family-friendly, pet-friendly, and accessible.
